

Unless the Indiana Telephone Privacy List is somehow illegal, I would like to have it stay in effect and not be preempted by the proposed Federal Do Not Call rule.

The reason I say that is that I understand that the Federal provision would be less effective at reducing unwanted call than the Indiana one is.

I like being able to tell would-be callers via this list that I don't want to talk to them. It is more disruptive to my home life to have to interrupt what I am doing just go to the phone numerous times to tell various callers I don't want to talk to them.

Those people that the Federal provision would allow to bother me and are not allowed to by the Indiana provision would still be able to communicate with me in the more convenient (for me) method of sending me a letter. I DON'T SEE HOW I WOULD BE IN ANY WAY BETTER OFF GETTING THOSE EXTRA CALLS THAT I DON'T WANT AND THAT THE FEDERAL RULE WOULD BRING TO ME.
